THANKSGIVING.

Agreeably with the proclamations of President Hayes and Governor Irwin Thursday next will be observed as a day of thanksgiving to Him who doeth all things well; for the blessings He has bestowed upon our Nation and the State during the year now drawing to a close. Californians have much to be thankful for. California has had an abundant harvest, and her farmers have generally been well remunerated for the labors of the year; our mining industries have been prosecuted with energy and favorable results have been attained or are promised in the near future; and this is particularly the case in this mining district, where our bullion shipments have been regular, and may be doubted before the advent of a new year. Where, a year ago, we had scarcely a dozen hoisting works, we now have in the neighborhood of 40 well appointed works of that character; where we had at that time one bullion-producing mine, we now have three—and several others that only await milling facilities to place them in the same class; and as our mines are attaining depth and others are coming to the front and awaiting recognition as bullion producing properties. Where a year ago we had tens of men at work in our mines, we now have them by the hundreds—men of good character, who have brought their families to the scenes of their labor, to make happy homes and add to the permanence and well being of our town. As a community we have no reason to be otherwise than thankful for, and satisfied with, what has been done for us this year. As our people usually show their appreciation of such blessings by an annual immolation of our national bird—the turkey, we have every reason for believing that Thanksgiving Day will be well observed in Bodie; and we hope that everybody will be able to partake of a good turkey dinner.

The following are the proclamations: At the recurrence of the season which the devout habits of religious people have made the occasion for giving thanks to Almighty God, and humbly invoking His continued favors, has the material prosperity enjoyed by our whole country been more conspicuous, more manifold and more universal than during the past year. Also, unbroken peace with all foreign nations, the general prevalence of domestic tranquility, and the security and security of the great institutions of civil and religious freedom, have gladdened the hearts of our people and confirmed their attachment to the government which the wisdom and courage of our ancestors so fully framed, and the wisdom and courage of their descendants have so firmly maintained to be the habitation of liberty and justice to successive generations.

Therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do appoint Thursday, the 27th day of November, instant, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and I earnestly recommend that, withdrawing themselves from secular cares and labors, the people of the United States do meet together on that day in their respective places of worship, there to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for His mercies, and to devoutly beseech their continuance. In witness whereof, etc.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, President.
WM. M. EVANS, Secretary of State.

In harmony with the proclamation of the President of the United States, designating a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and in pursuance of a custom generally, if not universally, observed by the Executives of the States of the American Union, as well as in response to the religious emotions and impulses of a Christian people, who recognize their dependence on Almighty God for all the blessings they enjoy, I, William Irwin, Governor of the State of California, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 27th day of November, 1879, to be observed by the people of said State, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God. The past has been one of much material prosperity; the laws have been impartially enforced and order strictly maintained; and the people have enjoyed the inestimable blessings of civil and religious liberty. I, therefore, most earnestly call on them to meet, on the day above designated, in their accustomed places of public worship, and render to the Giver of all Good, devout thanks for the many blessings He has bestowed on us as individuals and as a people.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the city of Sacramento, California, this 15th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1879.

WILLIAM IRWIN, Governor.

The former Confederate cruiser, Shenandoah, has been sunk off the island of Socotra, in the Indian Ocean. The date of the disaster is unknown. Most of the crew were drowned. The Shenandoah belonged to the Union Navy.

A large whale washed ashore three miles below Santa Monica, Los Angeles county, on Sunday. Unless soon disposed of, the small will cause the Santa Monica to squander their wealth in gallons of Florida water.

Sheep have advanced 100 per cent. in price in Los Angeles in anticipation of an abundance of feed, and but few are now for sale.

LAND OFFICE ADVERTISING.

We extract the following from a card of H. Z. Osborne, Receiver of the U. S. Land Office, published in his paper, the Free Press, in relation to the Land Office advertising:

"It is to the effect that charges have been made against me as Receiver of the United States Land Office, of using my official position to promote my private business—or, in other words, that I have obtained advertisements for the Free Press, in which I am a postmaster, which I would not have obtained had I not occupied the position of Receiver. The charges, are made by the Messrs. Folger, of the Bodie Chronicle, and Mr. H. L. Childs, of the Standard. Messrs. Hoole & Elliott, of the News, I am informed, declined to join in the complaint, as did Mr. Pat. Holland, of the Union."

"As to my venerable friends, the brothers Folger, I am a little surprised to see them cavorting about in their present company. It is but a short time since they made complaint to Secretary Schurz about my connection with the Standard, and now they 'stand in' with the Standard because I am on the Free Press. I cannot see that my old friends have much interest in the matter anyhow, in view of the fact that few advertisers would willingly seek the obscurity of my columns, in company with the Wood sewing machine, 'ad' the Estey organ business, and the medical nostrum advertisements of Eastern quack doctors."

"The Standard people never protested against my connection with the Land Office while I was employed by them—never even once attempted to show me the sinfulness of the thing. I am unable to see any difference between being an employee and a government official at the same time, and being an employer and holding the same position. I maintain that neither is inconsistent with perfect integrity."

"If it is any satisfaction to the complainants, they can call back their complaint, and add to it that I am not sorry for anything that I have done, and that what I have done in the past I shall do again; and that, with my young and energetic partners, who are 'no slouches' in their respective lines, I am going to make a strong effort to place the Free Press where I once placed the Standard, in the position of the leading paper of this section of country."

In our last issue we alluded to the subject matter of the above and said that stubborn facts would be submitted to the consideration of Secretary Schurz which could not be gainsayed, but it was not proper to give publicity to it at present. We would remain silent now had not the Receiver invited discussion by publishing a card in his paper, in which he used language that cannot be unnoticed. Personally we esteem and have a high regard for Mr. Osborne, and our action in this Land Office business is with the Receiver concerning the patronage from the United States Land Office, and we have appealed to the Government to ascertain if a Federal officer will be allowed to publish a paper or be connected with one, and thereby enjoy a complete monopoly of the class of advertising emanating from his office, and the matter of which is to be submitted to him for adjudication. The Receiver says we complained that he was editor of the Standard, and it was due to that fact that it had all the advertising, but he fails to say that the Government has it under advisement, having written to the Bodie Land Office for information. As regards the additional charges they were made by our R. M. Folger. The aid of the press of Bodie, News and Standard, was invoked so far as expression, and no further.

The latter honestly responded, but the former, true to its instinct, partook of taffy and quietly subsided—a calm after an unwritten editorial storm, but we gathered enough from the 'sensation' storm to strengthen our position. The charges are as follows: That the Receiver was retained as editor of the Standard at a higher salary than similar service could have been obtained, for the purpose of securing the Land Office advertisements.

That the Receiver promptly informed the proprietors of the Standard of applications, and urged them to go into it daily and get the advertisements.

That the Receiver one day took $1,100 worth of Land Office advertisements to the Standard office, and that they were inserted in the weekly edition of that paper for the avowed purpose of 'preventing them from being observed and criticized' as it had 'little, if any, circulation in Bodie'."

That a party would rather have given his advertisement to the News, but he thought it was for his interest to give it to the Receiver's paper.

These charges have been made on good authority, and Receiver Osborne will soon have an opportunity to disprove them, if he can; but as he is not sorry for what he has done, and what he has done in the past he will do again, we think he will be relieved of such practices.

As to 'obscurity of columns,' the phrase is hackneyed. Our columns have always shown a healthy advertising patronage, and it has paid our customers. We do not solicit advertisements for 'encouragement.' We say to them that we do not want their advertisements unless they think it will pay. Neither are we 'slouches.' We present a neat sheet, our style of setting is pleasing to those interested, and our general make up suits our friends. Again, we are no 'slouches.' We have held our way, and do not intend to quietly allow the Receiver to impose upon the Government, advertisers and the press, if we can help it. We think we can. We have devoted considerable of one of our 'columns' to the effusion of Receiver Osborne. A journal list of his experience should not be rushed into print.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, NOVEMBER 22, 1879.

Anybody on Women.

After man came woman. And she has been after him ever since.

She is a person of noble extraction, being made of a man's rib. I don't know why Adam wanted to fool away his ribs in that way, but I suppose he was not accountable for all he did.

It costs more to keep a woman than three dogs and a shotgun. But she pays you back with interest—by giving you a house full of children to keep you awake all night and smear molasses candy over your Sunday coat.

Besides, a wife is a very convenient article to have about the house. She is handy to swear at when you cut yourself with a razor and don't feel like blaming yourself.

Woman is the superior being in Massachusetts.

There are about 90,000 more of her sex than males in the State.

This accounts for the terrified hunted down expression of the single men who emigrate from the East.

Woman was not created perfect. She has her faults—such as false hair, and false complexion, and so on.

But she is a great deal better than her neighbors, and she knows it.

Ever was a woman. She must have been a model wife, for it cost Adam nothing to keep her in clothing.

Still I don't think they were a bit happy.

She couldn't go to sewing circles and air her information about everybody she knew, nor excite the envy of other ladies by wearing her new winter bonnet to church.

Neither could she hang over the back fence and gossip with her near neighbor.

All these blessed privileges were denied her.

Poor Eve! she's dead now. And the fashion she inaugurated is dead now.

If it hadn't been for the confounded "snail" perhaps the ladies of the present day would dress as economically as Eve did.

But the only place where her primitive style is emulated is in a certain portion of Africa, where the women consider themselves in full dress when they have but a postage stamp stuck in the center of the forehead.

Woman is endowed with a tremendous fund of knowledge and a tongue to suit.

She has the capacity for learning everything she was divinely intended to know, and a few extra items besides.

Young ladies take a great deal of stock in classics and learn fast.

A woman may not be able to sharpen a lead pencil or hold an umbrella, but she can pack more articles in a trunk than a man can in a four-horse wagon.

The happiest period of a woman's life is when she is making her wedding garments.

The saddest is when her husband comes home late at night, and yells at her from the front door steps to throw out a handful of key holes of different sizes.

There is some curiosity in feminine nature.

PAPERED FLOORS.—"I used to think I was a good economist," said Aunt Detsy. "But lat these hard times have educated me over again. Seems to me I can make a dollar go twice as far as I used to. Instead of painting my kitchen floor this Summer, I am going to paper it with common wall paper, something plain and varnish it. You can't tell it from oil-cloth. Miss Peters has got on her entry that has been in wear seven years. She varnishes it every year and keeps a door-mat down. It doesn't cost as much as paint, and looks much better." Perhaps some of our economical readers would like to try some of these hard time receipts.

A PRESUMPTUOUS MEDDLER.—A Berlin genius has invented an instrument for turning over the leaves of music. The Berlin man is a presumptuous meddler. If this machine should come into general use what disposition could be made of the average young man in high shirt collar and hair parted in the middle who, at evening social gatherings, stands up at the end of the piano and turns over the music for the lady performer? He appears fit for no other purpose under the sun—or moon either.

Difficulty is the nurse of greatness, a harsh curse, who roughly rocks her foster children into strength and athletic proportions. The mind, grappling with great aims and wrestling with mighty impediments, grows by a certain necessity to their stature.

The difference between a self made man and a self made woman is 10 old papers, a hair switcher, 98 hair-pins, and a pretty little box labeled face powder.

Makes a man think he is more cunning than you, and you can easily out-wit him.

In conversation with Secretary Sherman at Newport recently, the Duke of Argyll alluded to Daniel Webster as once having been President of the United States.

Mark Twain preserves the proprieties in his most ordinary conversation. "My friend, Mrs. Clemens," he says, when he alludes to his wife.

Pay as you go, but if you happen, inadvertently, to go without paying, it is generally healthier to go back the other way.

The shrewd old granger who wants a lot of land broken up now gets up a plowing match for a prize of $5.

John Smith, one of the numerous Smith family, intends emigrating to California in the Spring, from Kentucky.

is wonderful in its conception, unprecedented for doing a large range of sewing in textile fabrics and leather. Its motions are continuous, admitting of an extraordinary rate of speed, either by steam or foot power. Every motion of the treadle makes six stitches, thus producing about one-third more work in a day than other Sewing Machines. It has no stop motions, no change of gears, and the needle out of the fabric. It uses the well-known Wilson Compound Feed on both sides of the needle. It has two-thirds less parts than any other first-class Sewing Machine. Its arm is fully eight and one-half inches long and five and one-half inches high, and the whole machine is very compact and elegantly constructed in proportions, elegance, design and appearance. Its simple, powerful and perfect mechanism places it as far in advance of all other Sewing Machines as the telephone is superior to the speaking tube. THE WILSON MENDING ATTACHMENT, for repairing all kinds of textile fabrics WITHOUT PATCHING, furnished FREE with all WILSON SEWING MACHINES, together with a Tucker, Ruffler, Corder, Set of Hemmers, Binder, etc. Prices furnished with freight charges prepaid, and machines delivered on trial on responsible parties, to be used with steam-power, in places where we have no agents.
